Bay utilities get

computerized billing

By CAROLE LANGE

Utilities customers may have noticed a change in their gas and water bills this month.

According to Utilities Commissioner Lucien Kidd, the city is now using a new computerized billing system which "can save us up to $160,000 over a ten year period."

With the old method, Kidd said, an entire day was spent preparing the utilities bills for one of the city's 17 routes.

"Now, our operators can bill everyone in the city within five days," he said. The city has approximately 2,500 customers and the new system is capable of serving 15,000.

"Since all billing will now be done at the first of the month when most people get paid, I think the new system can help reduce our arrears payment problem," Kidd said. He added that customers who are currently behind in their payments will receive a "final notice" attachment on their bill.

"This saves us from sending a collector to the home, and it's a pretty safe assurance that the person has been notified," he said.

Kidd said the new system can also process city and utilities payrolls and keep separate budgetary accounts for the 14 city departments and eight utilities departments.

He said in the past, it took two weeks to produce the monthly budget report, "but now it only takes four hours."

Insurance rates for utilities systems are based on gas losses, such as a pipeline leak, and Kidd said the new system will be able to determine what these losses were and where they occurred.

Predicting a "smoother operation" for the city, Kidd said the system will save the taxpayers money in the future because of the reduced number of personnel required. At the present time, three women are being trained to operate the machine.

The new system was purchased for $32,000. Kidd said $10,000 of that amount came from a depreciation fund and the remainder came from the balance on monthly utilities payments.

Commander W. Bruce Matthews, USN, made the announcement this week from his new headquarters inside NASA's National Space Technology Laboratories (NSTL) in Hancock County.

A mistrial was declared early Friday morning in the trial of accused murderer Jimmy Ray Fine after Fine's physician Dr. John Levens advised presiding Judge J. Ruble Griffin that Fine suffered from dehydration and would be unable to appear in court.

The mistrial occurred on the day defense attorney Boyce Holleman was to present the defendant's case. Fine, 38, is charged with the Dec. 14, 1974 shooting death of his wife Sharon at their Waveland home.

In announcing the mistrial, Judge

Griffin told the jury Fine was taken to the emergency room at Gulfport Memorial Hospital around 5:30 a.m. Friday morning suffering from apparent dehydration.

Fine reportedly told the attending physician of his scheduled court appearance later that morning adding he felt well enough to appear, but was advised to let his personal physician make a further examination and determination.

Following a transfer to Hancock County General Hospital and an examination by Levens, Fine was declared 75 percent dehydrated and unable to appear in court.

Because Levens said he was unable to advise when Fine would be well enough to appear again, Judge Griffin said he would not sequester the jury over the weekend to await a possible resumption of the trial Monday morning.

During the opening day of the trial Thursday, Hancock County District Attorney Albert Necaise presented nine witnesses, including three of Fine's four children, before the State rested its case at 5:50 p.m.

The first witness called was James Fine, 18, eldest of the Fine children, and a student at Pearl River Junior College.

Young Fine testified that he was in a bedroom watching television prior to the shooting. He said his parents had been arguing that day and added, "It was a pretty heated argument with cursing going back and forth."

When he heard the shot, James said he jumped from the bed and ran to the bedroom window where he was joined by his sister Jan, 14 who had been in another bedroom of the house. He said he saw his mother lying face down on the sidewalk approximately ten yards from the front door of the house.

James said he then stepped out of the bedroom and saw his father standing in the living room holding a gun. "I stepped back in the bedroom and when I came back out my dad had gone outside," he said.

He said his sister Jan was the first member of the household to reach his mother. "When I got outside, my dad told me to go inside and call an ambulance and he told Jan to get a pillow for my mother's head," he said.

He said he never completed the phone call for an ambulance, because his father called that there wasn't enough time. James said his father picked up his mother and put her in the front seat of the car and told him to drive them to the hospital. Enroute to the hospital, James said his father told his mother "I love you. I didn't mean to do it. I'm sorry."

Five of the state's witnesses were children who lived in the Fine's neighborhood at the time of the incident.

They included Charles Elliott, 14; Jimmy Lee Mercer, 15; Valerie Kennedy, 13; Janice Marie Rodriguez, 14; and Robert Rodriguez, 15.

Emile Piazza, Hancock County Coroner, was the state's final witness. He testified that a gunshot wound from a .22 calibre pistol was the cause of death. Piazza said the bullet entered the victim's body midway between the neck and breast and lodged in the back.

The bullet, pistol, x-rays and the blouse worn by Mrs. Fine on the day of the shooting were entered as evidence.

First NORDA contingent plans NSTL moving date

Forty-five employees, the first major contingent of personnel from the Washington, D.C. area will be located at the new Naval Ocean Research and Development activity (NORDA) within the next two months.

Suburban Newspapers of Americaeditorial*Suffer the little children?

Special plans were announced this week for young people of Bay St. Louis to again join millions of other conscientious young people across the United States in commemorating the 25th anniversary of Trick or Treat for UNICEF.

This worthwhile project asks and receives help each year from literally thousands of children and young adults alike who ask for pennies and nickles for UNICEF instead of treats for themselves.

The money collected for UNICEF goes to help literally hundreds of millions of children threatened with malnutrition, starvation and disease throughout the developing world.

Under the auspices of Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis, young people and children from all segments of the community are asked to organize at 6 p.m. at Virginia Hall of the church Halloween night where areas of assignment and collection badges and canisters will be distributed.

Last year Bay St. Louis young people collected $100, a good effort in anybody's book, but doubtless a small part of the money that could be collected if this worthy cause were supported by a larger segment of the community.

With everyone seeking money and contributions these days, it's sometimes hard to find priorities, but when you consider just 2 cents can buy a pencil or eraser for a school child or that just 3 cents can provide three high-dose Vitamin A capsules (enough to protect one child against nutritionally caused blindness for an entire year), it isn't easy to turn down a small child's plea.

They aren't asking, we are. Support UNICEF this Halloween, Oct. 31, with either a donation or a 30 minute walk. You'll feel a lot better afterwards.

Library friends staging flea market

The Friends of the City County Memorial Library are themselves in need of friends. To raise funds desperately needed by the library to purchase books, especially for the new building, the Friends of the Library are staging a Flea Market from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 8.

The market will be one feature of a Fall Festival of activities, being planned to raise the needed funds, a festival which will include such items as arts and craft demonstrations, used book sales, "tail-gate" sales and the like.

To ensure an adequate stock of items for these sales, the Friends of the Library are asking everyone to check closets, garages, attics, and other "hide-away" places, for "white elephants". Collection and delivery information can be gained from Mrs. Rosalie Kergosien at 467-4931.

We agree!We don't have to be the lowest paid people in America...

What's the most important thing on your mind these days. If you are like most Mississippians, you are probably hoping to have it better in the future.

You are concerned about better jobs, better pay and the good life for you and your family. Well, we agree with Gil Carmichael. We don't have to be the lowest paid people in this country.

Gil has been telling us how we can stop being the lowest paid in the country. Isn't it time we started listening? As Democrats, we are going with Gil Carmichael in November.

We believe that Gil is a hard man to beat.

Trunks finding their way back into homes

America is in a nostalgic mood. Maybe we like the way the past was better than we like the present. As part of our present mood, old trunks are leaving the attics to find places in the decorating schemes of many homes.

Even the most "beat-up" trunk can regain its health if you use your ingenuity plus a little elbow grease.

In planning what to do with an old trunk, remember these

The first step in refinishing should be to thoroughly clean the trunk, then sand it lightly to remove any loose particles of dirt or old finish.

Exteriors can be painted or antiqued. One suggestion is to paint with a flat enamel undercoat, then rub with a dark glaze. Metal fittings should be treated with a rust-inhibiting paint, available in many colors. Wood strips and details can be painted or preserved with a natural coated paper. Plush or quilted fabrics can also be used to make a handsome interior. Finally, to protect the trunk from scratches, apply one or two coats of clear, dull finish.

Inside the trunk, line sides, lid and bottom with washable wallpaper or other plastic.

The students of Our Lady's Academy were called on to display class as well as school spirit recently in the Oct. 15 intramurals.

Each class picked a name and carried it out through costumes, decorations and cheers. This year's class selections were: seniors-patriotic puppets; juniors-joking juniors; sophomores-Robinhood and his Merry Sophomores; freshmen-poppin' freshmen; eight grade-wacky waheenies; and seventh-grade-lazy daisies.

The classes competed for first place honors in spirit and games. The freshmen battled the juniors in the finals to claim first place in volleyball, and after all the cheering the judges voted the junior class the spirit banner for that day.

The next intramurals are scheduled for next April. The class with the highest total points at the end of the school year wins the coveted school plaque.

DEATHSROBERT L.
STUBBLEFIELD

Funeral services for Robert Lee Stubblefield, 75, of Waveland, were held Oct. 21 in Union City, Tenn. Mr. Stubblefield died Oct. 18.

A native of Union City, he had been a resident of Waveland for the past 17 years. He was a Mason and a World War I veteran.

Survivors include his wife Mrs. Regina Stubblefield; two stepsons, Raymond and Joseph Olivero, both of New Orleans; and two stepdaughters, Mrs. Lucy Scarengos, of New Orleans; and Mrs. Ethel Ducote, of Hamburg, La.; 10 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Judge J. Ruble Griffin pronounced sentences in two criminal cases Friday in Hancock Circuit Court.

Walter W. Devenport, 20, was given two years suspended sentence in the state penitentiary after pleading guilty to possession of a controlled substance, namely two LSD tablets.

Devenport was also fined $1,000 with $150 due Friday and the remaining $850 due Jan. 12, 1976.

Hulon G. Lumpkin, 36, charged with rape and assault and battery with intent to maim, was sentenced to six years in the state penitentiary on each charge to run concurrently, after entering a plea of guilty.

Lumpkin is presently serving a six year sentence at Parchman on a Pearl River County conviction handed down Sept. 23. Friday's sentences will run concurrently with the prior sentence. His attorney was John Scandie.

How's you C Q — your C-o-u-r-a-g-e Qu-o-t-i-e-n-t? How often do you risk yourself? Do you take chances? Do you realize that in every risk there is opportunity? And, that in every opportunity there is risk? Yes, risk is danger. And it's hazardous. But, in risk success sometimes comes. Yet, how do you know what risks, or chances, to take in business, or in a career? Well, there's no quick and sure answer, of course. However, to the bold acting often comes positive results. General Patton is an example of a gutsy military genius. Vince Lombardi practiced his courage on the football field. And Larry Csonka does so today! Churchill had courage—and lots of it. The Bell Telephone System beamed when Telstar went into orbit. It could have failed; but, it did not. There was BIG RISK there. The Mustang auto was a risk—right after the Edsel bombed. Fear gets in the way of much good that might be done. For example, in management, we see an excellent piece of work. We want to praise the person, or team, that accomplished the job. But fearfully, we don't praise. We don't encourage. We don't say anything. We don't risk ourselves. Conversely, when we see a wrong, a poor job, or poor service, we don't speak up, either. Rather, in gutless fashion, we let it go. Ralph Nader has guts. And so does Mike Mansfield.

It's tough to be tough-minded . . . yet tough-mindedness, balanced by tender-heartedness, is a trait that tells surely if you are a professional. The professional manager is firm, fair, friendly. He knows when to take charge, and when to risk himself. It takes guts to commit to mutual trust, respect and confidence in your fellow man.

Yet the best managers I know—the positive results—securing solution finders so needed in management today—have a high MTRC factor. Mutual. Trust. Respect. Confidence. Each behavior is part of their life-style.

No, you don't have to be discourteous to be gutsy. Rather, the winner is strong enough to be gentle. A winner feels responsible for more than his job; A winner says, "There ought to be a better way to do it!" And he goes about accomplishing the tough jobs.

Yes, courage is in short supply.

But it takes guts to succeed.

How's your "Courage Quotient?"

Little Theatre ends with 'The Curious Savage'

By MIKE CUEVAS

Continuing a season of nostalgia, the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will present "The Curious Savage" by John Patrick. The play, directed by Mary Carter, is the final production of the 1975 season.

Francie Franckiewicz, well known to local audiences following her portrayals as the Mother Superior in the "Velvet Glove," and as the lovable junk yard owner in "Everyone Loves Opal," will star as the free spirit, Ethel Savage.

Supporting Mrs. Franckiewicz will be newcomers to the local theatre, Janet Busch, Marshall Henderson, Jay Heitzman, and Foster Dickard.

East Central succumbs 54-18

Coach Bob Roger's Pirates scored twice in every quarter of play Friday night as the Pirates roared East Central 54-18 at Pass Christian.

Pass quarterback Aaron Swanner accounted for three of the Pirate touchdowns, hitting receiver Durrell Lang for two scoring plays and engineering a pitchout-pass score to Walter Dedeaux and Oren Parker for another.

Scores were also added by running-back Ottis Woods, Paul Stewart and Gerald Ellis.

The Pirates jumped to an early 13-0 lead in the first quarter with a 20 yard scoring run by Woods and an eight yard pass from Swanner to Lang. Stewart added one PAT.

In the second quarter, Swanner and Lang connected again on a 34 yard scoring pass. Stewart added the PAT. Then Lang took it alone on an 81 yard scoring run. Ellis added a two point conversion. East Central put together six points in the second period on a 16 yard run by Darrell Clark to make the score at half 28-6.

In the third quarter, Stewart added six more for Pass on a 31 yard run. A pitchout by Swanner to Dedeaux and pass to Oren Parker was good for an 88 yard scoring play.

The Pirates ended their scoring in the fourth on runs of 21 and seven yards by Stewart and Ellis. Swanner and Stewart converted.

East added two six point plays of its own in the fourth quarter for the final 54-18.

Pass is now 7-0 and will play St. Stanlaus 6-1 at Stanlaus next Friday.

UNIVERSITY

Mississippi's Johnny Rebs and Vanderbilt's Commodores, oldtime rivals who date their football series back to 1894, meet in the 50th game here Saturday.

The game, third and last campus appearance of the season for the Rebels, will get underway at 1:30 p.m. with an audience of 30,000 expected.

Ole Miss, 2-0 at home and 0-5 on the road, dropped a stunner to South Carolina last weekend in Jackson. The Gamecocks scored with 22 seconds remaining for a 33-33 tie.

The Commodores, 3-3 on the season but 0-3 in Southeastern Conference results, were beaten 47-3 last Saturday in Nashville by Georgia. They were beaten 40-7 by Alabama in a Sept. 27 game in Nashville, and 35-0 by Florida two weeks later in Gainesville.

Vandy victories were scored over UT-Chattanooga 17-7, Rice 24-6 and Tulane 6-3.

By way of contrast, one of the Rebels' defeats was to Tulane in a Sept. 20 game in New Orleans. That score was 14-3. Also, they were beaten over UT-Chattanooga 17-7, Rice 24-6 and Tulane 6-3.

—Texas Declaration of Independence

Citizens of Mississippi!

Poor local Republican Party! Branch office, side street outlet for the Rockefeller controlled national party in New York. Locally, the Republicans said too much. It was a bad slip of the tongue, a large cat let out of the bag. . . when they let it be known that they planned to begin the registration of your guns! Planned the registration of your hand guns, as undoubtedly a preliminary move to confiscate them, and take them away from you!

Bad error, indeed, because the registration of hand guns, or any guns, is a violation of your rights under the Second Amendment of the U.S. Constitution . . . and that is but one step away from confiscation.

If they can violate your constitutional rights and make you register, they can violate your constitutional rights and take them from you. If they have the will and determination to do the one, and can get away with it, they can do the other.

You already have the right to bear arms. The right to keep and bear arms was won for you by the sacrifice and blood of your ancestors. Why is it to your advantage . . . for the furtherance of your freedom . . . for the maintenance of your liberties . . . that you should register your hand guns, or any guns? Certainly not for the pejorative bottom, the fake statistics fed you by the Republican Party?

They want gun registration . . . and after that they want gun confiscation. And the Mississippi branch of the Republican Party . . . which is allowed no freedom of expression, nor of action, on the big issues, must do as it is instructed. The Republicans want gun control, and they want it now, because they fear a free people, armed and prepared to fight, if necessary, for their liberty.

You think: "This is a great exaggeration. This could not happen to us, here in Mississippi." Consider this, then, and decide if it is an exaggeration:

From the WASHINGTON OBSERVER News-letter, Feb. 1976: "The handgun lobby is uniting nationwide for the largest ever push in Washington and in the State Legislatures. The number of gun controlled lobbies around the nation is rapidly growing. Eight state houses now have permanent gun control lobbies . . . double the number of 1974, with an umbrella group formed last November. Two national gun control lobbies are working in D.C., on seeking strict gun registration, and a new one is working total hand gun禁令."

Poor local Republican Party! Branch office, side street outlet for the Republican controlled national party in New York. Colonial appendage, subordinate branch of the national party . . . nothing else. On all fours to the master, the National Republicans control . . . and the 1976 affairs that do not matter, they let fly . . . like the meat for the masses' bread crumbs for the controls!

Register handguns in Mississippi! Advocated by a man who proposed to be "your" governor?

It's Time

It's time for every man and woman who loves individual liberty to put an end to Republicanism in Mississippi.

It's time for every owner of a gun in Mississippi to vote, and to get his family to vote, and to urge his friends to vote so that Republicans can be unseated before it's too late.

It's time for every law enforcement officer, every sheriff, every deputy, and constable, every police officer, every highway patrolman, who knows, as they all know, of the effectiveness of citizens in checking crime, to help stamp out the publican before it undermines the police and constabulary forces.

It's time for every man and woman who loves liberty under the Constitution, who is proud of their tradition of freedom, who demands that their voice be heard, to rise up, to stamp out Republicanism, to stand up for your rights as free citizens under the protection of a great and mighty nation.

Bay Junior blanks Pearl

Rocking a 20-0 score onto the board Thursday, Bay Junior High Tigers romped over Pearl River Central in Tiger Stadium, advancing their winning streak to a perfect 7-0 record.

Following a scoreless first half, LePantone scored on a quarterback sneak from the one yard line early in the third period for the Tigers first score.

LePantone set up the TD on a 10 yard pass to Sammy Palma. The two point conversion was successful, making the score 8-0.

With the defense holding firm, the offensive option opened all stops in the fourth quarter, adding the balance of their 20 points.

Mike Shuler started on a 21 yard run and, with LePantone again managing the two extra digits with his conversion.

David Edwards playing defensive center back, snuffed a Pearl River pass during the ball back to the Pearl River end zone on the following play. James Cole completed 8th for the 20. The extra point try by LePantone failed.

The Tigers final score came on a 15 yard touchdown pass to LePantone who passed some key blocks to make the yardage. Again, the extra point bid was no good. Prior to their final score, the Bay Junior High Seven team beat their Pearl River counterparts, 7-2.

Remember! You have the right to vote for anybody in November.

Please remember this. It is your Constitutional right to vote for anybody you choose. It doesn't matter who you voted for in the primary election this past summer. On November Fourth, it's your right to vote for whoever you want. And nobody can take that right away from you.

We ask you to consider voting for Gil Carmichael for governor. Why? Because Carmichael has more to offer Mississippi than the other candidates.

Carmichael just doesn't talk about better jobs and higher pay, he has good ideas to produce better jobs and higher pay for all Mississippians.

It's your decision and your vote. Nobody can take that away from you. But you can throw it away yourself if you are not careful. First, listen to the candidates. Then vote for the one who makes the most sense for Mississippi.

Gil Carmichael, he's hard to beat.

Stanislaus backs gut Tiger line, 43-0

By DAN BARBER
St. Stanislaus unleashed a devastating ground game combined with a stingy defense as the Rocks completely frustrated the Bay High Tigers in Tiger Stadium for a 43-0 shutout Friday night. Coach Barry Jones's Rocks, whose record now extends to 6-1, built an awesome running game in the second quarter scoring 23 points against the Tigers after taking a 6-0 lead in the first period of play. The Rockchaw backfield amassed 343 yards rushing for the night with running backs Art Scafide and Skip Negrotto each accumulating over 100 yards apiece and one touchdown each. Quarterbacks Mike Gruber and David Weir added to the Rocks cause with two touchdowns each.

The Bay High offense, plagued by unnecessary penalties and costly fumbles, Mike Gruber and David Weir added to the Rocks cause with two touchdowns each.

The Bay High offense, plagued by unnecessary

In the third period, Weir scored on a one yard run after a drive of 65 yards covering five plays. Gruber to Senner was good for a two point conversion and a 37-0 lead.

The Rocks final score came with 9:26 to play in the fourth quarter on a 16 yard run by quarterback Bill Ginn at the Bay 18 yard line. It took the Rocks five plays to move the ball inside the Tiger end zone.

With 8:25 left in the second period, the Rocks put together their first sustained drive, moving the ball 50 yards in seven plays with Weir scoring on a one yard run. Scafide added a two point conversion to give the Rocks a 14-0 lead.

After a series of punt exchanges, the Rocks magic worked again with a 61 yard scoring play by Skip Negrotto on a pitchout from Mike Gruber. Gruber to Ricky Senner added two points. The touchdown was set up by another fumble by Ginn, this time recovered by defensive end Trey Stanley.

After a six yard run by Gruber and PAT by Martin Hoda, the Rocks waltzed off the field with a 29-0 halftime lead.

The loss drops Coach Woody Alliston's Tigers to 3-5. The Tigers will host George County next Friday night.

Stanislaus, now 6-1, will entertain undefeated Pass Christian, whose win over East Central Friday night, gives them a perfect 7-0 slate.

Williams injured
Harrison manhandles Hawks, 47-6

Harrison Central physically manhandled the Hancock North Central Hawks Friday night as the Red Devils bruised and battered the Hawks for a 47-6 victory at Kiln, Miss.

Harrison Central coach Irvin Favre said there was some question about the future status of the Hawk's premier quarterback Ted Williams, who suffered a knee injury in the third quarter.

"Without Williams," Favre said Friday night, "it would be pretty tough." There was no determination as to the extent of Williams' injury Friday night, but it was reported the veteran signal caller had suffered cartilage damage.

Hancock battled Harrison fairly evenly during the first period of play, trailing only 8-6 at the end of the quarter, but the physical size of the Red Devils and strength of the Harrison bench became too much for the Hawks as the game progressed.

Eventually, injuries began to take their toll on the Hawks team. Favre reported seven players nursing some type of injury after the game. Harrison had extended its lead to 21-6 by the half,

SAM'S THE MANVOTE FOR
Sam J. Perniciaro
Supervisor, Beat 4
Hancock County

Election day will soon be here. I want to take time to apologize to the voters of Beat 4 that I haven't contacted during my campaign. I want to thank you for the support and vote you gave me in 1972, to elect me to the office of constable, that I now hold in Beat 4.

If elected as your supervisor, I will serve all of the people in Beat 4 and Hancock County to the best of my knowledge with honesty and fairness to all. Let me remind you that your supervisor you put in office will govern our county for the next four years. To all my voters, young and old, I want to say; that if elected as your supervisor, I will still be able to help with your problems. Please contact me at any time. Again I want to say that I am running this campaign on my own and being supported by no one but Sam J. Perniciaro, Sr. and have made no promises to any one.

When you go to the polls on Nov. 4, 1975, please cast your vote for Sam J. Perniciaro for Supervisor of Beat 4, Hancock County. Your vote will never be forgotten. Please, before you vote, check the background of my opponent.

Thanks Again,

Sam J. Perniciaro

WWII vets receive biggest chunk

THE SEA COAST ECHO, BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., SUNDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1975 PAGE 7

VA expenditures total $18 billion yearly

Thirty years after the end of World War II—and despite two wars since that time—men and women of that grandaddy of all armed conflicts still comprise 46 percent of America's veteran population of 29.5 million.

World War II came to an end September 2, 1945, when the formal surrender was signed aboard the USS Missouri, two and a half weeks after hostilities had ceased.

Veterans Administration records show 13,587,000 veterans are still alive out of the 16,535,000 who saw service at some time between September 16, 1940, and July 25, 1947, the period on which eligibility for most World War II benefits is based. More than 406,000 died while still in uniform.

More than 3,230,000 World War II veterans receive help from VA for disabilities, 58 percent of all veterans to whom VA makes disability payments. Of this number, 1,306,000 have disabilities resulting from military service.

The massive manpower needs of World War II resulted in more than twice as many men being in uniform at one time than had served during the previous 170 years of American history.

Even after the huge call-ups for the conflicts in Korea and Vietnam, those who served during World War II still constitute well over a third of the 44.5 million Americans who have borne arms at any time since the first action by the Minutemen.

Living World War II veterans are 30 percent of that total.

The way World War II has overshadowed all other wars can be shown in the magnitude of the tragedy it brought to America, as well as in the number of participants. Major battles were fought on three continents and in oceans around the world, and American battle deaths were nearly two and one half times the combined totals of those in World War I, Korea and Vietnam, which were narrowly restricted geographically by comparison.

World War II veterans were the first to benefit from training and housing programs to make readjustment to civilian life easier and to help veterans establish careers and start family life.

These programs have since been made available to Korean Conflict and Vietnam war veterans.

Slightly more than 50 percent of the 16,440,000 eligible World War II veterans used the right to GI Bill training, with 2,300,000 enrolling in college. All GI Bill training from World War II service ended in 1956.

GI home loans worth more than $46.4 billion have helped 5.7 million World War II veterans solve their housing needs. This benefit is still available to those who served in World War II, as well as later conflicts.

Some 3.6 million men and women of World War II and the period immediately following still carry life insurance policies issued while they were in service. Face value of the policies is more than $34 billion.

VA estimates that services and payments to World War II veterans have cost more than $113 billion. This is twice the cost of help for veterans of World War I, a conflict that has been over for 57 years and is the second costliest war in terms of veterans' benefits.

The World War II figure is 47 percent of the total that has been spent by VA and predecessor agencies for veterans' programs since the Nation was founded.

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Richard L. Roudabush has noted that VA will probably be called on to spend as much during the next 12 to 15 years as was spent during the first 20.

He points out that VA's budget is now at the $18 billion level, a year level and that the number of living veterans is the largest in history.

The large number of World War II veterans will be needing more and more medical and financial help as they grow older, he says, as will the nearly five million Korean Conflict veterans who are only a few years younger. Readjustment help for the 7.5 million Vietnam era veterans will continue for a few more years and service will continue for the nearly one million World War I veterans still surviving.
